

Hoop Houses

Workshop

8 a.m. to Noon December 8, 2016

Join the Natural Resources Conservation Service (NRCS) and the University of Idaho Extension for a free half-day Hoop House Workshop in Moscow.

Topics include NRCS Program Guidelines, Planning and Practices and Hoop House Site Selection. As part of the workshop, participants will tour two local farms in Moscow. During the tours, they will be able to see what producers are doing with Hoop House production to enhance farming operations.

Speakers will include Brad Jaeckel with the Washington State University Organic Farm, Steve Streets with Daystar Heritage Farm, Adam Reed of Victory Farm and NRCS Conservation and Program Staff.

Participants will gather from 8 to 9:30 a.m. at the NRCS USDA office in Moscow, 1848 S. Mountain View Rd., Moscow, Idaho. After a short briefing about the workshop, we will caravan to the farm tours.

The workshop is free, but space is limited. Please RSVP to: 208-882-4960 Ext 3.

United States Department of Agriculture
Natural Resources Conservation Service

University of Idaho
Extension

Hoop House Benefits

- Extended growing season
- Excelerated Spring planting
- Less expensive to construct and operate than a traditional greenhouse
- Pest management
- Water management
- Harvest quality

Also Called

- High Hoops
- High Tunnels
- Cold Frames

Resources

- Natatural Resources Conservation Service www.nrcs.usda.gov
- University of Idaho Extension Service www.uidaho.edu/extension

Idaho

Natural Resources Conservation Service

nrcs.usda.gov/

